Dear Sir or Madam,

As an associate professor at the Faculty of Mathematics and Computer Science of Bucharest University, I met the student Ciprian-Mihai Ceausescu in the didactic activities specific to the Software Development Methods courses in the academic year 2015-2016 and in the year 2016-2017 at Distributed Systems and Cloud Computing courses at the Computer and Information Technology Department. In the academic year 2017-2018, Ciprian-Mihai Ceausescu did the didactic activities (laboratories and seminars) in the disciplines of Distributed Computation and Software Development Methods. The student has expressed a constant concern for acquiring the knowledge taught at the mentioned courses, but especially for the case studies treated in the laboratories and seminars that brought into discussion new technologies in the studied fields. The documentation activities associated with laboratory training have highlighted real skills in research and innovation. All of this has shaped me for Ciprian-Mihai Ceausescu a profile of a future information technology specialist with a real work-based research talent and a permanent concern for both technological and TCS (Theoretical Computer Science)

To all this, we have to add the fact that he has demonstrated real teamwork skills in order to accomplish the homeworks and projects associated with the courses, but also outside them, by engaging in various extracurricular activities, which certainly contribute to his professional and personal development. I am convinced that any research and innovation activity he wants to undertake will be treated with responsibility and seriousness, as well as in the educational process of Bachelor's Degree and Master's Degree studies, being a meticulous, persevering and extremely ambitious person. Ciprian-Mihai Ceausescu is a communicative person, open, sociable and always willing to accept new professional challenges.

Under these circumstances, I strongly recommend to include Mr. Ciprian-Mihai Ceausescu in the Erasmus program of your University. For any questions, please feel free to contact me at: ck@fmi.unibuc.ro or by phone: (+40) 726 335 510.

Sincerely,
Associate prof. Cristian Kevorchian
